

The controversial and dynamic winemaker Jean-Luc Colombo has sparked off many changes in the northern Rhône Valley. Their vineyards, which are organically farmed, are located on extremely steep and granitic terraces in Cornas and St. Peray. Jean-Luc and his wife Anne, both winemakers of prestige, drew much attention in the 1990s for their modern vinification practices aimed at producing elegant, rather than powerful wines. For many years, Jean-Luc also worked as a “flying winemaker”, specializing in the variety Syrah for projects in South Africa, Spain, California and of course the Rhone Valley. Their daughter Laure, after years of apprenticeship and winemaking abroad, has now joined the team and pays special attention to the family estate wines of Cornas.

Among his more than...

Properties: 10 hectares of vineyards in the hills of Cornas and St. Peray. Manual harvest & organically farmed, presently in the process of getting certification. They also purchase grapes from other districts in the Rhône order to make negociant wines.

Production: 600,000 bottles of which 60% is exported.

Jean-Luc Colombo Les Pins Couchés Rosé 40% Syrah, 40% Cinsault y 20% Mourvèdre (Monastrell)	Mediterranee IGP
Jean-Luc Colombo Viognier Les Collines de Laure 85% Viognier y 15% Rolle (Vermentino)	Mediterranee IGP
Jean-Luc Colombo Saint Peray La Belle de Mai 60% Roussanne y 40% Marsanne	Saint Peray
Jean-Luc Colombo Amour de Dieu Condrieu 100% Viognier	Condrieu
Jean-Luc Colombo Côtes du Rhône Les Abeilles 60% Garnacha, 30% Syrah y 10% Monastrell.	Côtes du Rhône
Jean-Luc Colombo Crozes-Hermitage Les Fées Brunes 100% Syrah	Crozes Hermitage
Jean-Luc Colombo Cornas Terres Brulées 100% Syrah	Cornas
Jean-Luc Colombo Cornas Les Ruchets 100% Syrah	Cornas

