

The Schloss Lieser winery, located beside the famous castle bearing the same name, is owned and operated by Thomas Haag, of the illustrious Haag winemaking family. Thomas joined Schloss Lieser in 1992, when the historic estate had fallen into disrepair. Over the years, Schloss Lieser has been transformed and now produces some of the region's finest wines. In fact, Schloss Lieser is one of the only wineries to receive a five star rating from all five of the major German wine critics. Their recent success has enabled Thomas to add top properties to the estate, including grand cru sites in Piesport and Brauneberg and a tiny portion of the legendary Doctor vineyard in Bernkastel. These are some of the steepest on the Middle Mosel with gradients of up to 70%.
